Peculiarities of the product

1

Advantages of this product are, first, prompt conversion of the layouts without distortion and, second, the possibility of fast interaction of the architect and his or her client in real time at any stage of the project.

2

The platform contains both professional tools and a free application REVIZTO Viewer that allows viewing VIM-files.

3

It provides an opportunity for every user, inspite of the proficiency level in specialized programs, to easily and mostly effectively interact while working on a project: to move in 3D-environment, review data, leave video notes and comments within the scene.
